6. Annual Report of Management including the 2022 Audited Financial Statements

Message of the Chairman

The Chairman expressed appreciation for having been elected as director and Chairman in September 2022. He further thanked the Board for entrusting him with continuing the Corporation’s transformation, which his predecessor, Fernando Zobel de Ayala, led along with the President and CEO, Mr. Francia, and the ACEN leadership team.

The Chairman congratulated Mr. Zobel de Ayala for having nurtured the Corporation to become one of Ayala’s core businesses, and for having empowered the management team to undertake game-changing initiatives that contributed to addressing critical gaps in the industry and more recently, leading the global effort towards clean energy transition.

The Chairman noted that the Corporation was fortunate to have had the foresight to make the strategic shift towards renewables when the space was still in its nascent stages. With the current global energy crisis accelerating the demand for clean energy, ACEN was in a strong position to capture the opportunities and take a leading role in the renewables revolution.

The Chairman shared that the Board was excited for ACEN’s growth trajectory. He said that the Board would continue to actively engage the senior leadership in delivering execution excellence and building a strong team to ensure success. At the same time, amidst the scale of expansion, the Board would ensure that prudent risk management is exercised, including maintaining a strong balance sheet.

The Chairman acknowledged the outgoing directors, Ms. Sherisa P. Nuesa, Ms. Consuelo D. Garcia, and Ms. Aurora D. Geotina-Garcia, for their valuable contributions to the Corporation. On behalf of the entire Corporation, the Chairman thanked the outgoing directors for their valuable insights and strong engagement with the Board.

In closing, the Chairman thanked the ACEN management team and all ACEN employees for the excellent work and passion that they have put into the organization. The Chairman also thanked the Corporation's shareholders, business partners, and stakeholders for their continued trust and support.

Report of the President

The President acknowledged his fellow shareholders and colleagues on the Board and management. The President shared that the reopening of the world in 2022 gave the Corporation the opportunity to prime itself for a post-pandemic economic recovery. He reported that the Corporation ramped up its investments in renewable energy as it anticipated heightened electricity demand. However, the positive moment was quickly challenged by geopolitical events at the beginning of 2022, with the Ukraine war having caused shock waves to the global energy market, which triggered high fossil fuel prices that resulted in energy security issues. The foregoing also exacerbated existing global supply chain challenges that led to the delay in the completion of some of the Corporation's projects. Nonetheless, the Corporation continued to execute on its renewables expansion across its key markets in the Philippines, Australia, Vietnam, India, and Indonesia.

The President further reported as follows:

The Corporation concluded 2022 with over 4,000 MW of net attributable capacity, with 98 percent coming from renewable technologies.

The Philippines continued to be the Corporation's core market, accounting for 40 percent of its generation portfolio. The Corporation promptly responded to invest in new capacity amidst the tightening power supply situation brought about by resurgent electricity demand and the declining Malampaya gas output.

Overseas, Australia was the Corporation's largest market, having comprised 25% of its generation portfolio. This was cemented by the Corporation's acquisition of the Australia development platform, which resulted in its first full ownership of a development and operating platform outside the Philippines. The revaluation gains booked from that transaction drove a significant jump in ACEN's reported net income of ₱13.1 billion. However, EBITDA, which included ACEN's share from non-consolidated associates and joint ventures, declined by 5% to ₱14.3 billion in 2022 due to challenges in Philippine operations on high cost of power owing to net merchant buying at high spot prices. This was, however, offset by the strong growth of the Corporation's international operations driven by new operating capacity in Vietnam and India.

The global energy crisis had accelerated the demand for governments and businesses to adopt a sustainable development strategy, pushing renewable energy to an unprecedented level of importance. The Corporation was excited to play a leading role in this historic shift towards a low-carbon future.

At the end of 2022, the Corporation had around 2,400 MW of capacity under construction, majority of which would be operational within 2023. Of this amount, ~1000MW of renewables was currently being built in the Philippines, which would add much needed capacity in the system and allow ACEN to have surplus energy and expand its customer base.

The Corporation was moving forward with its commitment to achieve Net Zero greenhouse gas emissions by 2050, which fully supported the Corporation's ongoing growth and decarbonization strategy. In December 2022, the Corporation completed its Net Zero roadmap, which included near-term scope 1, 2 and 3 greenhouse gas emissions reduction targets, aligned with the GHG Protocol and the latest climate-science and long-term targets that were consistent with the deep decarbonization of the power sector. ACEN was proudly the first energy company in Southeast Asia to take this critical step towards achieving Net Zero, with a transparent framework for monitoring progress.

ACEN recognized that to reach Net Zero, it would need to rely on both emissions reduction and neutralization of residual emissions. As part of its transition plan, ACEN aimed to deliver reduction-led decarbonization by 2040, with an interim target for 2030, and a Net Zero status by 2050. This 2050 goal was in line with the broader Ayala group net zero target, while ACEN would continue to explore opportunities to further accelerate these targets in the future.

While the Corporation was strongly committed to transitioning out of coal-fired generation, it believed that such transition had to be done in a responsible way. In an emerging market such as the Philippines where coal plants are still inevitable until the next few decades, the Corporation had to take into account the tightness in power supply and the economic relevance of thermal plants in the near to medium term. With this in mind, the Corporation implemented a just energy transition by adopting the principles of the energy transition mechanism (“ETM”), a framework promoted by the Asian Development Bank, as a responsible divestment of our thermal assets and transition to cleaner technology.

The Corporation completed the full divestment of the South Luzon Thermal Energy Corporation (“SLTEC”) coal plant using the ETM framework, the first of its kind in the world. This landmark transaction would enable the early retirement and transition to a clean technology of the 246 MW coal plant in Batangas by 2040. This would reduce SLTEC’s operating life of up to 50 years by half and avoid up to 50 million metric tons of carbon emissions. This transaction, which ensured an effective workforce evolution, community resilience, and collaboration with stakeholders, generated ₱7.2 billion in proceeds, which would be reinvested into renewable energy projects.

Having been at the forefront of energy transition enabled ACEN to be a natural participant of sustainable finance. The Corporation issued its maiden peso-denominated Green Bonds amounting to ₱10 billion, which would finance over 500 MW of solar projects in the Philippines.

Despite stepping up its funding initiatives, the Corporation was able to maintain healthy leverage ratios. ACEN ended the year with a net DE ratio of 0.2, which provided ample capacity to fund new investments.

The global energy crisis triggered an urgent need for secure, reliable, and affordable electricity supply. The Corporation saw this as an opportune time to turbocharge its growth and help address today’s capacity challenges. In August 2022, the Corporation announced, “ACEN 2030”, its bold aspiration to reach 20 GW of attributable renewables capacity by 2030, representing a 25% compounded annual growth rate up to the end of the decade.

The Philippines would remain as ACEN’s core market, with Australia remaining as the second largest market. In addition, the Corporation would continue to grow its presence in Vietnam, Indonesia, and India. Solar and wind would remain as the Corporation’s core energy technologies, complemented by investments in new technologies such as battery energy storage, floating solar, and offshore wind. As the Corporation had done over the past decade, this ambitious goal would be implemented by leveraging strategic partnerships with global and regional developers, multinational energy firms as well as local business groups, developers, and landowners.

ACEN 2030 was an aggressive goal, but with the strong commitment and support of a highly energized organization, strong balance sheet, robust pipeline of projects, and solid partnerships, the Corporation believed that it had all the fundamentals in place to succeed. Going forward, while the Corporation continues to see a challenging market domestically amid the tight power supply situation and elevated fossil fuel prices, the significant addition to its renewables operating capacity by the middle of 2023 would help augment the country’s energy supply as well as bolster ACEN’s financial performance.

The President acknowledged the Corporation’s former Chairman, Mr. Fernando Zobel de Ayala, and Vice Chairman, Jaime Augusto Zobel de Ayala, who stepped down from the Board in 2022. Fernando and Jaime’s stewardship inspired the management team to constantly aim high, taking prudent risks with a long-term view for success, and they guided the Corporation with a constancy of purpose, balancing the economics with tangible and lasting impact on society and the environment. On behalf of all his colleagues, the President thanked Fernando and Jaime for having consistently championed ACEN throughout the years. Their remarkable stewardship had laid the foundation as the management team steers ACEN into the next phase of growth and transformation.

The President also welcomed the new board leadership led by the Chairman, Delfin L. Lazaro, and Vice Chairman, Cezar P. Conasing.

The President closed his report by thanking the Board for its guidance, the ACEN management team and all its employees for their engagement and rigor, and the Corporation’s business partners, shareholders, and stakeholders for their continued trust and support.

The President then introduced a video presentation which highlighted the concepts of the groundbreaking Energy Transition Mechanism.

Upon the request of the Chairman, the Secretary presented the following Resolution No. S-2023-002, and reported the stockholders' approval of the same in accordance with the voting results:

Resolution No. S-2023-002

RESOLVED, to note the Corporation's Annual Report consisting of the Chairman's Message, the President's Report, and the audio-visual presentation to the stockholders, and to approve the consolidated financial statements of the Corporation and its subsidiaries, and parent company financial statements of the Corporation, as of 31 December 2022, as audited by the Corporation's external auditor, SyCip Gorres Velayo & Co.

The Corporate Secretary, upon the Chairman's request, explained that stockholders' ratification was being sought for all the acts and resolutions of the Board, the Executive Committee, and other Board Committees exercising powers delegated by the Board, which were adopted from 25 April 2022 until 23 April 2023, as well as for all the acts of the Corporation's officers performed to implement the resolutions of the Board or its Committees, or in connection with the Corporation's general conduct of its business. 8. Amendment to Articles of Incorporation

At the request of the Chairman, the President presented the proposed amendment to the Articles of Incorporation of the Corporation to create preferred shares via reclassification of 100 million unissued common shares with a par value of Php 1.00 per share into 100 million preferred shares with a par value of Php 1.00 per share. The President also detailed the proposed features of the preferred shares.

The President explained that the proposed amendment was meant, among others, to diversify the Corporation's sources of funding and to enable access to a wider base of institutional and retail investors. The additional source of funding would enable the Corporation to increase its asset base and build more power plants that could generate more revenues for the Corporation, which would ultimately benefit the stockholders.

The President stated that since the preferred shares to be issued would not exceed 35% of the resulting total issued and outstanding capital stock of the Corporation, stockholders should not have any pre-emptive rights with respect to the issuance of the preferred shares, in accordance with the second paragraph of Article Seventh of the Articles of Incorporation. In accordance with the Revised Corporation Code, a stockholder who would vote against this proposed amendment could exercise his or her right of appraisal, the manner of which was detailed in the Corporation's Information Statement.

12. Other Matters

After confirming with the Secretary that there were no other matters that required consideration by the stockholders, the Chairman requested the Assistant Corporate Secretary, Mr. Lagazo, to read aloud the questions and comments together with the names of the stockholders who sent them.

Nimfa Perez (stockholder): "Why is there a planned preferred share issuance?"

President: "Issuing preferred shares allows us to diversify our funding mix, and also improves our capital structure and our leverage ratios in preparation for future financing initiatives to meet our rapid growth trajectory."

We've seen that Philippine investors, both institutional and retail, now have appetite for preferred share investments, so we are tapping into this pool of liquidity to fund our growth. We think now is a good time to offer preferred shares to give new investors steady, predictable, and competitive returns, versus other instruments in the market.

Please note that these preferred shares are nondilutive, given that they are non-voting."

Jennifer Lim (stockholder): "You are expanding aggressively overseas. Does this mean ACEN will focus less on the Philippines?"

President: "International expansion is part of our strategy to accelerate growth and diversify our portfolio, but the Philippines is our home market and will continue to be our core market.

To achieve the government's target of 35% renewables share of output by 2030, we estimate that around 18 GW of new renewables capacity will need to be built in the Philippines in the next eight years. As such, out of the 20 GW that ACEN is targeting to build by 2030, we expect around 8 GW or 40% to be in the Philippines. In fact, we have added around 1,100 MW of new renewables capacity in the country just in the last two years.

We remain supportive and appreciative of the government's policies, particularly the Green Energy Auction and the Green Energy Option programs that are now in effect in the market."

Ludee Polido (stockholder): "ACEN has been growing its presence in Australia. Which countries are you expanding to next?"

President: "We've recently announced a deal wherein we participated in a consortium to build the 600 MW Monsoon Wind project in Lao PDR. It's a cross-border deal, as the project will be supplying electricity to EVN in Vietnam. It is expected to be the largest renewable energy platform for regional connectivity and decarbonization in Southeast Asia.

We've also previously announced a deal in the United States, where we signed a partnership with PivotGen, with the aim of repowering existing wind farms in the US. They were introduced to us by UPC, already an existing partner. We recently acquired a portfolio there of 8 wind farms worth 136 MW. It's still very early days for us and we are still waiting for regulatory approval, but we are excited to see what other prospects remain for us in this market."

13. Adjournment

The Chairman thanked the stockholders for joining the meeting and announced that the Corporation will be posting a link to the recorded webcast of the meeting on its website, and that stockholders could raise issues, clarifications, and concerns on the meeting within two (2) weeks from posting of the link by sending an e-mail to corpsec.acen@acenergy.com.ph

There having been no other comments or questions from the stockholders, the Chairman adjourned the meeting.
